

CONTENTS

Foreword	5
Chapter 1. Theoretical and methodological basis of Iran's nuclear program study through international security lens	7
1.1. Political Science Investigation of Iran's Nuclear Program State and Source Base of the Research	7
1.2. Scientific and Methodological Potential of Neorealism in Modern Security Studies.....	19
1.3. Middle East Region Conceptualization and Notional-Categorical Apparatus of the Study.....	32
Conclusions to Chapter 1	39
Chapter 2. Iran's nuclear program evolution as a result of power redistribution in international system	42
2.1. Iran's Nuclear Program Dynamics in the Second Half of the 20th Century	42
2.2. The Contradictory Nature of Iran's Nuclear Program Implementation at the Beginning of the XXI Century	55
2.3. Systemic Opportunities and Constraints for Iran's Nuclear Program: An Institutional Dimension	71
Conclusions to Chapter 2	83
Chapter 3. Iran's nuclear program relations with the regional security issues	86
3.1. Iran's Nuclear Program as International Political Disagreements Factor at Regional Level	86
3.2. Ambivalent Attitude of Several Regional Actors to Iran's Nuclear Program Military Component	106
3.3. Iran's Interaction with Nuclear Program Peaceful Nature Supporters in the Middle East Region	118
Conclusions to Chapter 3	133
Chapter 4. Global context of Iran's nuclear program: challenges for international security	136
4.1. Divergent Approaches of Key Non-Regional Actors Concerning the Prospects for Iran's Nuclear Program Implementation.....	136
4.2. International Political Scenarios for Managing Global Security Crisis Caused by Iran's Nuclear Program.....	153
Conclusions to Chapter 4	164
References.....	166
Appendix	193